

Project Manager, Inclusion and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Communities

- 12 month fixed term contract
- Hawthorn location
- Make a difference in peoples' lives

It's likely that you have heard of the beyondblue organisation; we provide information and support to help everyone in Australia achieve their best possible mental health, whatever their age and wherever they live. What you may not know is that we have recently been awarded one of the Australian Financial Review's 50 Most Innovative Companies, placing 32nd – and this is only one of many recent accolades!

This is an exciting opportunity to utilise your Project Management experience of supporting Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities through programs which strive to improve social and emotional wellbeing.

This is a unique role which requires an individual with critical and strategic thinking skills to oversee multiple projects, in addition to possessing a hands on approach to develop relationships with community members and stakeholder organisations.

Key responsibilities of this role include:

- Contribute to strategic, operational and project planning to ensure the focus of the Diversity & Inclusion program, including Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander priorities, is aligned with beyondblue objectives.
- Provide strategic advice and direction on projects and activities to ensure they are inclusive of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander and other diverse communities' needs.
- Oversee and coordinate the delivery of the beyondblue Reconciliation Action Plan, to support a whole of organisation approach to meeting the needs of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities, as well as support the translation of the principles of inclusion strategies for a range of other diverse communities.
- Support teams to identify and connect with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander services, experts, and community members to ensure Consumer & Carer, and/or Expert input/consultation occurs to inform beyondblue activities.
- Represent beyondblue on external committees and in key stakeholder meetings
- Working as part of the Diversity and Inclusion team, you will have the opportunity to transfer your skills to support other areas of focus such as LGBTI communities and people with disabilities.

The successful candidate will possess proven project management skills; a formal PM qualification would be highly regarded as would a tertiary qualification in public health or similar discipline. You will have demonstrated experience of working with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities which will ensure your cultural knowledge and understanding builds strong working relationships with various stakeholders.

In this role you will enjoy working for a manager who will empower you to achieve your goals, and you will be supported to connect with mentors and others to assist you in your work. beyondblue offers NFP salary packaging and a supportive and fun work environment to help you achieve a positive work/life balance.
